Sale of Bank Verified

Last week in The News there was published an article concerning the rumored sale of the controlling interest in the Navajo-Apache Bank and Trust Company, of Holbrook, Winslow and St. Johns, to T. M. Quebedeaux, president of the McKinley County Bank of Gallup, N. M. Confirming the truth of the reported sale the following account of the transaction is reprinted from the Gallup Herald of last Saturday:

"Local stockholders of the Mc-Kinley County Bank have consummated a deal whereby they have taken over the banks in Winslow, St. Johns and Holbrook owned by the Navajo-Apache Bank and Trust Co. of Arizona.
This is one of the largest banking deals made in this part of the Southwest in some time and involves properties capitalized at $100,000 and with resources totalling more than $600,000.

"Those making the big purchase are T. M. Quebedeaux, T. F.
Smallings and T. E. Purdy and others. Mr. Quebedeaux has been in Arizona for several days negotiating the change of ownership in the three banks and is expected home today. Mr. Nelson of St. Johns, one of the Navajo-Apache Bank and Trust company, officers was in Gallup this week in consultation with Mr. Smallings.

"Each of the three banks bought by the Gallup citizens will be incorporated separately and each bank will have a separate charter as a state bank.

"As the principal owners of the three banks are citizens of Gallup and all stockholders in the McKinley County bank this city will be the headquarters for the principal officials of the three Arizona banks recently purchased by them. This deal by local people will result in considerable business of a financial nature being brought to this city in the near future."

Quayle Sentenced to Penitentiary

Charles Quayle, convicted of the crime of rape a few weeks ago in the superior court, appeared before Judge Ellis last Monday afternoon for sentence.
Judge Ellis tried the case when Quayle was convicted, and he came to Holbrook Monday from his home in Kingman for the purpose of imposing sentence.

Preliminary to passing sentence the court listened to extended arguments by Attorney J. E.
Jones of Flagstaff, and Attorney Louis Kliendensat of Los Angeles, for a new trial. County Attorney Jordan opposed the motion of the defendant's attorneys for a retrial of the case, and the motion was overruled by the court. Quayle was then sentenced to serve not less than five nor more than fourteen years in the state penitentiary.

Attorneys for the defendant at once gave notice of an appeal to the supreme court, and asked that their client be admitted to bail, pending a final disposition of the case by that tribunal.
This request was granted and the bail bond was fixed at $5,000.
The bond was signed by W. H.
Dagg and J. W. Marley.

Let's Keep Her

Now that our soldiers are in Mexico—there because it is not to be avoided—we trust they will hoist the old flag over the capital of Mexico and let it fly till the cows come home. If this question of the invasion of Mexico gets serious, and it probably will, there is only one way the government can be recompensed, and that is by annexing four or five border states to this republic, and if it assumes gigantic proportions, why take the whole layout. Those people cannot govern themselves, any way, and if we have got to whip them to make them behave, we say hoist the American flag over the ancient Montezuma capital and let her fly.—Dunbar's Weekly.

A Model Drug Store

The Holbrook Drug store is now a model of convenience and beauty. An entire new set of fixtures, including the handsome soda fountain which was installed a few weeks ago, have been placed in the store. The last shipments of these were received Monday and are now in place.
The interior of the room has been redecorated to conform to the design of the cases, soda fountain and prescription case; the large stock of drugs and notions has been tastefully arranged in the cases and on the shelves, and the store as a whole presents a very attractive appearance.

The proprietors of this model store are entitled to praise for their enterprise in keeping abreast of the times. They believe in the growth of Holbrook and the surrounding country, and they have shown their faith in the future by fixing up a business establishment that would be a credit to a town ten times the size of Holbrook.

Horse Thief Sentenced

From the Coconino Sun of March 31, the following in reference to the conviction of a horse-thief, is taken:

State vs. Clarence Goins; grand larceny. Upon plea of guilty, defendant sentenced to state prison for not less than one nor more than three years.

Goins was the man who stole the two logging horses from the Greenlaw logging camp and attempted, with his wife, to ride them out of the country. He was captured by Sheriff Dickinson near Holbrook. Goins is a native of Oklahoma and only had been married since last August.
He claimed that he was broke, without a job and concluded he could get back home by taking the horses. His wife was sent back to her parents in Oklahoma by the county.

Gentleman Could, But Won't

Any gentleman can swear, get drunk, tell stories that would lower him in the estimation of his mother and wife, and go where he would be ashamed to be seen by the boy he loves—but he won't.

Any gentleman can drive a sharp bargain; he can take advantage of the other man's necessities; he can drive him into a corner, he can rub his hands gleefully and say to himself as he sees him writhe, "Business is business"—but he won't.

Any gentleman can kick a dog, abuse a horse, misuse a child, laugh at another man's mistakes and devilishly gloat over another man's failures—but he won't.

Any gentleman can grow cynical and pessimistic; he can feel that everybody is against him and he against the world; he can scoff at all good things, ridicule religion and damn your judgment—but he won't.

Any gentleman can say harsh, sarcastic and cruel things; he can crush flowers and fertilize weeds; he can stab you with words—but he won't.

Any gentleman can make this old world, this topsy turvey, this greatly misunderstood world, a far better place because he chanced to pass along this way —and he will!—Coconino Sun.

Says Loco Can Be Cured

It will be learned with relief by owners of horses that Dr. J.
A. Ambrosy is having gratifying success with a cure recently devised by him for loco, the mysterious disease that has caused losses in Arizona during the past few years and which has puzzled veterinaries all over the country.
Dr. Ambrosy has been studying this disease, which is called loco for want of a better understanding of its nature, during the past four years that he has practised in Tucson and the cure has been evolved only after experimentation with many remedies.

Thousands of animals have died from loco; some recover in a measure, but no specific remedy for the disease had been found prior to Dr. Ambrosy's announcement. He came to the conclusion that the disease is a stomach trouble affecting the gastric nerve. The remedy is a power, put up in capsule form. To administer, it is mixed with molasses and placed far back on the animal's tongue.—Tucson Citizen.

Navajo Indians Are Prosperous

The Navajo Indians are today the most prosperous Indians in America. Their vast reserve of flocks ample pasture for their sheep and ponies; and though their flocks are a scrub lot, yielding a little more than 50 to 70 cents a head in wool on the average, still it costs nothing to keep sheep and goats. Both furnish a supply of meat. The hides fetch ready money, so do the wool and blankets. And the Navajo is the finest silversmiths in America. Formerly they obtained their supply of raw silver bullion from the Spaniards but today they melt and hammer down United States currency into butterfly brooches and snake bracelets and leather belts, with the fifty-cent coins changed into flower blossoms with a turquoise center. Ten cent pieces and quarters are transformed into necklaces of silver beads or buttons for shirts and moccasins.—

Dooley on Profanity of Printers

"I don't believe in profanity, Hinnissy—not as a reg'lar thing.
But it has its uses an' its place.
F'r instance, it is issential to some thrades. No man can be a printer without swearin'." 'Tis impossible. I mind wanst I went to a printin' office where a frind iv mine be th' name iv Donovan held cases, an' I heard th' foreman say:

"What gentleman is settin' A thirty?" he says.

"I am," says a pale gentleman with black whiskers atin' tobacco in th' rear iv th' room.

"Thin," says th' foreman, 'ye blankety-blank blacksmith, get a move on ve. D've think this is a annyooal incylopedjee?" he says.

"Ivrybody swore at ivrybody else. Th' little boys runnin' around with type prattled innocent profanity, an' afther awhile th' iditor come in an' he swore more thin anybody else. But 'twas aisy to see he'd not larned th' thrade iv printer. He swore with th' enthusyasm an' inaccuracy iv an amachoor, though I mus' say he had his good pints.
I wisht I cud raxmber what it was he called th' Czar of Rooshya f'r dyin' jus' as th' paper was goin' to press. I cud've often used it since, but it's slipped me mind."—Printers' Engineer.

Suggests a New Party

The Greenback party and the Populist party went the way of all flesh years ago and the Bull Moose party has just been sealed up in a vault of oblivion. We must have another party. The next one to be born should be called the Free Thought party.
Its cardinal principal should be that every member could say exactly what he feels and not be excommunicated for so doing.
What a following it would have!
What a joy it would be to the candidate to express his thoughts exactly as they flit through his mind. What a boon to the weary newspaper man who is tied hand and foot by "fealty" and "loyalty" and "good of the party." How the yellow dog would stick his tail between his legs and go howling down the street and out into the country far away.
There would then be no place in the land of the reformer, defeated for office with his "expose." He wouldn't have to wait until defeated to change his politics and pester us with his news.
Hasten the day for the Free Thought and Free Speech party.
It would lessen the strain on religion.—Buckeye Valley News.

Big Cotton Acreage

W. D. Sprigg of the Arizona Egyptian Cotton Co. announces that about 2,000 acres of cotton has been signed up in the Chandler district. All of this is long staple. But very little had to be replanted on account of the frost early in the week, and most of the plants are in a healthy condition.—Chandler Arizonan.

Why Constipation Injures

The bowels are the natural sewerage system of the body.
When they become obstructed by constipation a part of the poisonous matter which they should carry off is absorbed into the system, making you feel dull and stupid, and interfering with the digestion and assimilation of food. This condition is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Obtainable everywhere.
